Scotty Adkins of the West Liberty Police Department, the charges were lodged against the girls who reported finding the note in their locker. One of the students, who allegedly wrote the note, has been charged with terroristic threatening and falsely reporting an incident. The other student was charged with falsely reporting an incident.

By Miranda Cantrell James

Local law enforcement agencies are currently investigating threats made to two Morgan County High School students in a note the students found in their shared locker last Wednesday afternoon. Asst. Police Chief Wayne Lewis said the female students discovered the threatening note during the last period of classes before school dismissal. "The note specifically mentioned these students," Lewis said. "The writer said he/she hoped the students would fall

Indictment against Conley is dismissed

Questions about possible irregularities with special grand jury unanswered

"The Commonwealth having moved to dismiss this case by prejudice, and the Defendant having no objection, it is hereby ordered that this indictment be dismissed, without prejudice."

With the above order, signed on Aug. 30 by Special Judge John David Preston of Paintsville, all charges against Morgan County Judge Executive Tim Conley have been officially dismissed.

The action follows a surprise motion for dismissal filed Aug. 23 by Special Prosecutor Brent Turner of Prestonsburg. Acknowledging that a technical error had been made in the handling of the special grand jury that last May indicted Conley on three counts of abuse of public trust, Turner asked that the indictment be dismissed and requested that Morgan Circuit Judge Rebecca K. Phillips empanel another special grand jury to rehear the Commonwealth's case.

With the indictment's dismissal on the technical violation, the Commonwealth avoided a court order to answer questions of a more serious nature relating to possible irregularities in the seating of the special jury.

Those questions, raised in a defense motion for dismissal of the indictment filed by Conley's attorney, Grover A. Carrington of Mt. Sterling, centered on why the regular grand jury then in session was bypassed in favor of a special grand jury and why no transcript or video record was made of the jury selection process. Carrington said there "was no showing by the Commonwealth that the regular grand jury then in session in Morgan County was unable to adequately function and/or handle the volume of business of the court, a requirement before the court can empanel a special grand jury."

In an affidavit obtained by Carrington and submitted in support of the latter claim, Denver Stacy, who was foreman of the regular grand jury at the time the special grand jury was seated, stated that he "was not aware that a special grand jury had been called until after it was empaneled. The regular grand jury was never advised about an investigation of any county official. There was no reason the regular grand jury could not have considered this case and myself and other members of the grand jury were upset when we learned a special grand jury had been called."

Carrington's motion for dismissal also contended that the request by state Attorney General Greg Stumbo's office to seat the special grand jury failed to provide, as required by law, any allegations of misconduct that "would constitute reasonable cause to believe that a grand jury investigation would disclose criminal activity."

With the dismissal of the indictment, the question that point raises also will remain unanswered and the case, if it is to go forward, will have to start over with a new jury panel and a new judge.

More Accusations Plague Fletcher's Campaign

By Todd Duvall

Does Gov. Fletcher really want to spend the last two months of his re-election campaign defending himself once again from charges that he has broken the law?

Apparently so. The charges come from his old nemesis, Attorney General Greg Stumbo, who now insists Fletcher has violated the law in the appointments he had made to the governing boards of the University of Kentucky and University of Louisville.

It was Stumbo, of course, who prosecuted the year-long grand jury investigation into the Fletcher administration's personnel practices that led to two dozen indictments of top administration officials and eventually of Fletcher himself.

The governor took the Fifth Amendment before the grand jury here, issued a blanket pardon of anyone and everyone charged with breaking state personnel laws except himself, and finally got a plea deal from Stumbo that had the charges against Fletcher dropped in exchange for a written admission that state personnel laws had in fact been violated.

It is exactly that hiring scandal and Fletcher's handling of it that explains multiple polls showing the governor 15-20 points behind his Democratic opponent, former Lt. Gov. Steve Beshear.

Under those awful political circumstances, the last thing Fletcher should want is yet another confrontation with Stumbo over allegations Fletcher again has broken the law.

And there is every indication Fletcher indeed has done just that.

The statute relating to appointments to university boards of trustees says, "The appointments shall reflect the proportional representation of the two leading political parties of the Commonwealth based on the state's voter registration. Membership on the board shall reflect no less than proportional representation of the minority racial composition of the Commonwealth..."

Even though Republican voter registration has increased substantially in recent years, there still are more registered Democrats in Kentucky than Republicans — 57 percent to 37 percent, to be exact.

But after nearly four years of Fletcher's appointments, Republicans hold the majority of seats on the UK and U of L governing boards. And there were report last week that the same applies to the boards of the regional universities as well.

When a statute says "shall," it means exactly that, not "may" or "try to" or "one of these days." Simply do it.

Yet in a letter to Stumbo, Fletcher's attorney, David Fleenor, insists, "Governor Fletcher has fully complied with both the spirit and letter of the law in making appointments to these boards." Fleenor said the faculty and staff representatives on the boards give a Democratic majority.

So it is back to court we go.

And once again Fletcher did not have to see himself portrayed as a lawbreaker the last two months of his re-election effort.

It took a couple of hundred thousand Democrats to elect Fletcher governor in 2003. He easily could have made entirely legal appointments to all these university boards and rewarded his political supporters (Democrats and Republicans) at the same time.

In fact, some of his hiring controversies involved rewarding his Democratic supporters with state jobs.

Fletcher goes into the November election with enough handicaps — no endorsements from his lieutenant governor and chief primary opponent, lackluster support from other Republican office holders — that he should avoid at all costs yet more accusations that he ignores statutes when they do not suit his purposes.

If Fletcher had admitted mistakes two years ago and simply corrected them, he would not be in the miserable political shape he is in now. The same applies to university appointments.

However, there is certainly no evidence Fletcher — or his closest advisers — learned that political lesson.

Collecting bin Laden's Debt

By Miranda Cantrell James

Americans marked on Tuesday another grim anniversary of the 9/11 terrorist attacks that rocked the nation to its core six years ago, creating a culture of fear and changing life as we know it forever.

With U.S. troops seemingly quagmired in Iraq, gas prices at a record high and a plethora of national political scandals in recent months, many Americans are wondering when the clouds will part over the land of the free and the home of the brave.

It seemed the thunderheads grew even darker when national media outlets received a purported tape of Osama bin Laden Friday afternoon, with the long-lost terrorist urging all Americans to convert to Islam to prevent future attacks.

This was the first communication from bin Laden since the 2004 presidential election. Amazingly, the mass murderer — who appeared to have at least one foot in the grave three years ago — looked refreshingly younger and healthier this time around. (Praise Allah!)

Why are we giving this hoodlum (with his new smooth image, no less) a platform to address the American public? We know his demands are falling on deaf ears; Americans are not converting to Islam. Yet we — through the media — play into his bloody hands by spreading his detestable message.

How is that for free publicity? It's high time we find this mooch and make him pay — before America and its heroes have to pick up the tragic tab again.

off a cliff, and if they didn't, someone would bring a gun to school and blow their brains out. This person also threatened to make their lives miserable if they reported the note."

Lewis said the students reported the note to MCHS Principal Addison Whitt, who notified local police and instructed school staff members to conduct a search of all student lockers that evening.

School staff — with city and county law officers and Kentucky State Police troopers present — also conducted a search of all students and their belongings with metal detectors as they entered the school the next morning.

Whitt said students were also assembled in the school gymnasium before classes, where they were told about the incident and why they were searched. Letters notifying parents of the incident were sent home with students Thursday afternoon.

"Neither search yielded anything suspicious such as weapons, etc.," Whitt said. "This is normal procedure in a situation like this. Our main concern is student safety, and we will continue to rely on our current security measures."

Asst. Superintendent of Schools Deatrah Barnett said the school system will heighten security in the near future.

"We anticipate conducting more random searches at schools," Barnett said. "This would be done to ensure the safety of our students. All future incidents will be handled similarly to Wednesday's incident."

Lewis said police are currently focusing on possible suspects and expect to make an ar-

LETTER FROM MAGISTRATE RIGGSBY

To the Citizens of Dist. 3 and Morgan County:

I was very humbled when elected as Magistrate by your support and confidence. I am very honored to have an opportunity to represent Morgan County and the citizens of District 3. I am proud of our county and what we have. I take pride in being able to say I am from Morgan County. What I said when I was campaigning still holds. I want the very best for Morgan County and the citizens. I feel I have a responsibility to the citizens to represent you in a fair, unbiased manner and earn your trust and respect.

I ran for this office because I do care about the well being of the citizens that make up our county and the issues and things that affect you all. Also I feel I have a responsibility to explore every avenue that would be in the best interest of our citizens.

I understand there have been a lot of rumors and articles over the past few months that may have suggested I was against or working against some issues and things that would benefit our county or that it was a political issue. I can assure you what I have done has been done with the best interest of our citizens at heart. I feel I should be accountable to the citizens. I only ask when you see an article or hear a rumor you would contact me so we can discuss it. I will be glad to explain my position.

I had said early on I felt we need a good line of communication. I feel you all should stay informed on issues and things that are important to you and I need your input and thoughts on these things. I still plan to have meetings from time to time as we did on the occupational tax, but it is hard for everyone to get there with our busy schedules.

I have given a lot of thought to the best way for us to communicate. I have decided for now it would be best if you all could just drop me a letter or postcard or give me a call or stop by and I will reach you all through the newspaper, as it would cost $700 to $1,000 for me to send everyone a letter. I have been very busy since January, so don't hesitate to send more than one request or make more than one call if you don't hear from me as soon as you think you should.

Thank you and I look forward to hearing from you.

HURRICANE RECOVERY PROGRAM-SECOND ANNIVERSARY

To the Editor:

When the hurricanes of 2005 hit the Gulf Coast, few of us would have believed that two years later we would still be talking about the overwhelming needs of the survivors. Yet as we look back on the devastation and see the slow pace of recovery we understand that this conversation may be with us for years to come.

Any conversation of recovery efforts must include a resounding "thank you" to the many people who came together in response to the worst hurricane season in the history of our country. Thanks to all the first responders who made their way to the Gulf Coast region with only a desire to help in their hearts. Thanks to the thousands who kept coming to the affected areas to aid in recovery. Thanks to supporters who provided the financial resources to make the relief and recovery activities possible.

In the midst of what became a national emergency, the people of West Liberty and Morgan County responded. We showed character — a team of caring citizens, community leaders and community organizations who chipped in to make the recovery effort meaningful.

In the weeks following the hurricanes, the Red Cross provided 68 million meals, sheltered thousands and spent more than $1.4 billion for direct emergency assistance to more than 1.4 million families (4+ million people).

Over the past 18 months, the American Red Cross Hurricane Recovery Program has focused on long-term recovery. The program provides initiatives to assist with survivors' most difficult mental, emotional and life-rebuilding challenges.

Despite the hard work of our many community and corporate partners, the needs far exceed the resources available to help everyone. As we move beyond the two year remembrance of the 2005 hurricanes, the Mid-East Ky Chapter thanks you and the people of Morgan County for your continued support. Your investment in the Red Cross is not only for the relief of a past event. It has also heightened preparedness for the future, for we learn from every event. Your continued support is critical as we get ready for whatever emergency may come our way.

D felony). He was lodged in the Rowan County Detention Center.

Williams had been employed at the Taco Bell on Highway 32 in Morehead for about two weeks, said Iain Dalrymple, manager of UNITE's Big Sandy Drug Task Force.

"During that time he typed up fake criminal histories on the general manager, two shift managers and an employee and told them they were going to be arrested as part of an ongoing investigation," Dalrymple stated. "He had made an identification card with the UNITE logo and had listed himself as an undercover narcotics investigator."

The identification card did not contain a photo, but was placed just below his driver's license in his wallet. Dalrymple said Williams also had made phony business cards.

One of the managers became suspicious of Williams and contacted the UNITE office in Prestonsburg. After learning of the fraudulent claims, a UNITE detective, accompanied by Morehead Police Det. David Sexton, went to the store about 4:45 p.m. and confronted Williams, who eventually acknowledged making the false identification.

Dalrymple said he did not know why Williams targeted the Taco Bell employees. "We do not

The Judge's Corner

By Tim Conley

Morgan County Judge/Executive

Hello from Judge Tim Conley. A great big THANK YOU to all the people who believe in us and the work we are doing to help promote our county.

We are thankful that the charges have been dropped against me in the court system. Although the prosecuting attorney only admitted to violation of one Kentucky statute — KRS 29A.220(2) — I feel like my rights have been violated on numerous other points. Since I promised to share more with you after the court proceedings, I feel now is the appropriate time to do so.

First of all (as stated in a previous news story in this paper), two elected officials filed the complaint before a special grand jury was impaneled. When the special grand jury was impaneled, an elected official of the same political faction served as foreman. Members of the jury included a former elected official of the same faction, a relative of an elected official of the same faction, and a relative of an employee of yet another elected official of the same political faction. Three members of the jury lived within three-fourths of a mile of my opponent in the last election. I do understand that after eight months of having to take time off from work and plan around the jury sessions it was easier to pass an indictment than to continue this ridiculous investigation.

Now, we would like to invite you, the people of Morgan County, to come out to a Free Fish Fry. We want to show our appreciation to you for your continued support of your County Judge, my wife, Tammy, our children, and family. In November of 2006, over 1,500 people showed up to eat supper with the Conley family and we would like to do this again. We will announce in the paper and on the radio the date for this event sometime in October during which I will personally speak to you. Come out and enjoy! We remain committed to working for you, the citizens of Morgan County.

have an investigation on anyone at the store."

Citizens are urged to check the validity of anyone presenting themselves as a UNITE detective.

"If you are not sure, ask for a photo identification and a badge," Dalrymple said. "If you are still unsure, call UNITE toll-free at 1-866-678-6483."

Sisters celebrate 96th and 98th birthdays together

Dorothy Trayner began celebrating her 98th birthday, which was August 12, in July, when her sister, Ruby Rutter, of Louisville, along with her daughter-in-law, granddaughter, and three great grandchildren, came to visit and celebrate both Dorothy and Rubys' birthdays. Ruby was 96, July 22. Dorothy, the oldest, and Ruby are the only living members of their family of eight children.

On Friday, August 10, Dorothy had a surprise birthday party given by The Golden Girls at the Dairy Cheer. Everyone enjoyed her blue and white U.K. #1 Fan birthday cake and she also received a blue and white necklace and bracelet from the girls.

Her actual birthday on Sunday, the 12th, was spent with her immediate family, her daughter, Gene and Marita Cain, her grandson, Charles David and Staci Cain, great granddaughter, Allyson, and great grandson, C.J., of near Lexington. They gathered at the Gene Cain home and also at Dorothy's.

On August 20, she was visited by three nieces, Rhoda Peters, of Louisville, Jane Booth, of Carlisle, and Sharon Houston, of Erlanger. They are relatives of her late husband, Herbert Trayner.

Many local friends stopped by to wish her a happy birthday, and she received cards, phone calls, and gifts throughout the month. Her church, The West Liberty United Methodist, of which she is a faithful member, gave her special remembrances during the August 12 Sunday morning service. Mrs. Trayner thoroughly enjoyed her 98th birthday and appreciated being honored in every way.

7.86 miles of rural roads to be resurfaced

JACKSON, Ky., Sept. 7 – Governor Ernie Fletcher and Kentucky Transportation Cabinet (KYTC) officials today announced the awarding of a contract to resurface 7.86 miles of state-maintained Rural Secondary highways in Morgan County.

In Morgan County, the following Rural Secondary routes will be repaved this year will be:

- KY 705, Grassy Creek-Omer Road, 1.4 miles between milepoints 9.4 and 10.8.
- KY 772, Ezel-Omer-Pomp Road, 2.93 miles between milepoints 7.0 and 9.934.
- KY 1000, White Oak-Caney Road, 1.53 miles between milepoint 0.5 and Pipeline Road.
- KY 3345, Lower Long Branch Road, 2.0 miles between milepoint 1.8 and Tabernacle Road.

Hinkle Contracting Corporation was awarded the low-bid contract for $468,754.50. The project is scheduled to be completed by Nov. 30.

Construction activities are scheduled on a tentative basis and are subject to change depending on weather conditions. Motorists are asked to "Drive Smart" in work zones and be aware of workers, traffic control devices and construction equipment when traveling in areas where projects are ongoing.

Under state law, each county receives a certain amount of Rural Secondary funding from gasoline tax revenues based on population and Rural Secondary system mileage. After a set amount per mile is budgeted for routine maintenance on these routes, the remainder of the allocation is used for improvement projects such as resurfacing. KYTC personnel evaluate the Rural Secondary roads in each county, and those findings are presented annually to the fiscal court in each county for local comments and recommendations.

Junction News

By Kathy Bolin

Sept. 10 – Greetings from the Junction.

Ison Grocery will be closing its doors on Saturday, Sept. 15, after 29 years of service to our community. Everywhere you go locals are moaning about how it is just not going to be the same. Which we all know is right, change is always hard on us, and we are creatures of habit in this society.

Freddie and Yvonne have touched many lives through that little store; probably a lot more than they ever really realized. Just genuine good old country folk. Freddie and Yvonne, you will be sadly missed by many, but please enjoy a much needed rest. Anyone that would like to visit, Freddie is moving his chairs to the porch on Doc Ison Road on Doc's Creek. If you can catch them at home.

The new owners of Ison's will be Shawn Dalton and Kim Buckner. I am wondering what the new name will be. Anyway, welcome to our community, and I hope you are well satisfied with your business.

Aaron Wright, who is the son of Clifford and Carol Wright, of Hwy. 172, had an ATV wreck on Saturday evening. Aaron's accident was serious enough that they care-flighted him to the University of Kentucky Medical Center in Lexington.

On Sunday evening, James and Diane Cantrell were on their way home from visiting Ethel Bolin, Diane's mother, when they had an accident with a car that came across into their lane and hit them. James and Diane were treated and released.

Hattie (Williams), my mother-in-law, is still in a Cincinnati hospital. She is building her strength back up after her surgery.

Ivy Leeper had a birthday last week. Happy birthday Ivy! Hidy ho! Lidy Carpenter, how are you doing?

The Real Thing

At your grocery store, you can find several versions of "Grandma's apple pie." They are tasty no doubt, but there's nothing like the real thing, homemade with care and feeling. Of course, times change and so do Grandmas. Some have traded in their aprons. Whether or not she still bakes homemade pies, one thing about Grandma doesn't change...that is her capacity for love. She is wise, patient, and a great listener. Those attributes are still the real thing. God is a great listener, too. He is waiting patiently for you to share your life with Him. Whether God is found in an old chapel or a contemporary church, His capacity for love is unchanging and limitless...the real thing.

Memory Hill & Roundabout

By Hazel B. Craft

Sept. 10--The past three weeks have been exciting and very interesting ones. Sorry I missed last week's write-up. I'm improved healthwise--still have problems walking due to my sciatica nerves. Thankful for the improvement.

The past weekend starting on Friday my company came from Ohio. This big house will be their headquarters while they make several trips to collect genealogy material. They are Don and Lois Cheatham Phillips. Lois goes back to the Hammonds. She has a great collection of Hammond material. Now she is very interested in finding material on her grandfather, George W. Hammond, who was a United Baptist preacher. Earl Lykins, another United Baptist preacher, has supplied me with minutes of the latest United Baptists obituaries. Now he is looking for older minutes. Lois would be so thrilled to find out where he is buried and other information about George. Today they are in Breathitt County searching for information at the court house and library and a cemetery or two. Lois was supposed to give me some information about his wife and family. Hopefully there is someone that can supply her with this information. In the next news, there will be more information about him. Wish I had her energy in collecting family records.

On Labor Day Deborah and I went to a great service on Craft Creek off of Route 30 at Carty's Peaceful Hill. The Old Baptists from surrounding counties and distant states were present. Deborah was so impressed with the beautiful lined songs. The singing included lines and not lined songs. Recently I found an article giving a history of lined singing. There was a picture of a black man in Florida lining an old song. I promise to supply this article at a later day to Licking Valley Courier readers. My company, from Middletown, Ohio, was so impressed with the beautiful lined singing at the Little Mary Regular Baptist Church close to Morehead and Hillsboro the past Sunday. They were not disappointed. We had a great day at the church where Lonnie Gregory is the pastor. Lonnie is out of the Caudill family at Sharkey not far from this church. At Sharkey is the little church where Wardie and I were married June 12, 1938.

We drove past this little white church. It's also so good to visit this section, across from the church is a beautiful cemetery where so many of the Caudills are buried, not much space remains for burials. So in the rear of the beautiful Little Mary Church is a new cemetery where Caudills of the later years are buried after the little Mary Church was organized in the early 80s. If you haven't visited this new church, you won't be disappointed. The Caudill family have always been near and dear to Wardie and me.

In fact, Wardie married many of the young Caudills. In later years I found out I was related to them. The blind lady, Fanny Caudill, would have been so proud if she had known we were related. She was in our home 16 years and is buried in the Memory Hill Cemetery. In our home are two beds that belonged to her--a white iron bed and a wooden bed that she bought later after she moved in with us. In fact, her little iron bed is the bed I now sleep on. On Fanny's monument is the inscription "No blind in heaven". The doctors said she was the most blinded person he had ever seen.

She was one great person and was greatly missed by Wardie and me and the children that were with us at her death. She loved Deborah and Angela, who were babies at that time. They called her Granny. From that time on we all called her Granny.

The past Saturday was a disappointing day for me. There were two special happenings on that day. The Back-Bach reunion on Route 30 in Brathitt County, and the Cox auction in Morgan County. I sure wanted to visit both places. I just wasn't able to do that. I was on the program at the Back Reunion at the Bach Memorial Church on Route 30. A good crowd was present. It's always so good to meet up with the Back-Bach connections. I had a chance to explain how Memory Hill was progressing. I sure want to thank Tilden Bach for his great help in keeping the reunion going. David Risner is the president. Please all Back-Bach connections mark the date for next year's reunion on the second Saturday in September.

Tilden and _____ Bowling are working so hard to keep the Bach name on the map. Tilden is written book after book on their history. Stephen Bowling and David Risner are compiling books on all the pictures they can collect of our grand, old family. We would be so happy to have them for one of the picture books.

Contact him at the Breathitt County Library. Stephen Bowling is coming to Memory Hill to make copies of the many Back-Bach connections I have. I am sure looking forward to these books, especially of the copies of David Risner's vast collection. In the next write-up I will give more information on reaching Stephen. If you want to you can leave the pictures at Memory Hill and I will see that he gets them.

Also Stephen said that a Back-Bach addition was being planned as part of the Library.

On Sept. 23 there will be a Holbrook Memorial Service honoring the Holbrooks in the adjoining cemetery next to the Holbrook Memorial Church and all other Holbrooks by name and connection. Please spread the news. Hopefully a great crowd will be present. A Carry-in lunch will be served. Odes Williams and some of his preacher friends will take charge of the service. The preachers are Buddy Carter, J.B. Hamilton, James Varmey.

In a recent newsletter I mentioned a poem that George Lacy learned when he was in first grade. Mason Berry, son of Marvin and Jo Ellen Berry, learned the poem by hearing his grandmother repeat it a couple of times. Anyway I want to share this poem honoring George Lacy and Mason Berry. I thought it was so cute and it was cuter still to hear Mason recite it. The poem follows--

When I was a bachelior,
I lived by myself.
All the bread and cheese
I got, I put upon a shelf,

Now the rats and the mice,
They led me such a life,
I had go to to London to get me a wife.

The lanes were so bad, and the streets were so narrow,
I had to bring her home in a wheelbarrow.

The wheelbarrow broke,
my little wife had a fall.
Down came little wife,
wheelbarrow and all.

I would like to congratulate my granddaughter, JoEllen Berry, on the opening of her new business, Recovery Road, Inc., She has worked very hard to achieve this goal and I know Morgan County will benefit from their DUI substance abuse counseling service. During our conversations, JoEllen has expressed how wonderful it has been to have the support of our community. She commented that our local businesses have been especially kind and generous by allowing her to place flyers and business cards in their establishments to help people become aware of the services she will be providing. I wish her the very best of luck in her endeavors.

Quotable Quote

Winning a medal involves the support of many people. It's not just the athlete and the coach. It's also the guy who cleans the pool and the lady who cleans the showers. Everyone does their best so that we can win a medal. I consider myself at the tip of a gigantic pyramid of supporters who pushed me to win that medal.

fraud indictment

ASHLAND, Ky. — On August 16, a federal grand jury in the Eastern District of Kentucky at Ashland returned a true bill of indictment against Linda Bailey, 57, of Catlettsburg. The indictment charges Bailey with one count of Knowledge of a Circumstance and the Occurrence of an Event Affecting the Continued Right to Benefits, and one count of making a false statement.

Bailey surrendered to the U.S. Marshal's Office in Ashland on Aug. 23 and was arraigned in U.S. District Court before U.S. Magistrate Judge Edward B. Atkins. Bailey pled not guilty and was released on bond.

The investigation was based on a referral from the Ashland Social Security Office. Bailey, who became entitled to Supplemental Security Income (SSI) benefits in 2000. In 2002, Bailey reported that she and her husband had separated. The indictment alleges that she had not been separated from her spouse and that as a result of her failure to report her true living arrangements and resources she received $22,687.00 in SSI benefits to which she was not entitled.

Entrepreneurial Round Table scheduled for Oct. 18 at Laurel Gorge Cultural Heritage Center in Sandy Hook

By Gwenda Adkins
Elliott County Extension Agent for Family and
Consumer Sciences
P.O. Box 709
Sandy Hook, KY 41171
Phone 606-738-6400/6440
E-Mail: gadkins@uky.edu

The Entrepreneurial Round Table is scheduled for October 18 at the Laurel Gorge Cultural Heritage Center in Sandy Hook beginning at 1:00 p.m. and closing at 6:00 p.m. The day is designed around entrepreneurship but it is about much more than that. It's about making connections, developing a network, gaining information, and getting in touch with resources available throughout the state. Often we miss a lot of opportunities simply because we don't know they exist. October 18 will be an informal way for you to learn about resources such as the Governor's Office of Ag Policy, Morehead State University's Small Business Development Center, The Kentucky Entrepreneurial Coaches Institute, The Center for Rural Development and many more by meeting a representative and talking with them one-to-one.

Along with these resources will be business owners from near and far. Some entrepreneurs here at home have great stories to tell that will help others who want to start a business such as Home Choices who started with one idea but diversified in order to reach a broader market. Randy and Trina will be at the Round Table to share their story and talk about watching the market and having a keen eye for what is needed.

Gambill Mansion Bed and Breakfast in Blaine is a wonderful place to stay. The owners want to share their story about getting it started and keeping it going. They are coming to the Entrepreneurial Round Table.

Teresa Biagi and daughter Esmee McKee of Hazelwood Farm in Owen County diversified their farm from Tobacco to growing flowers for weddings, dried, and cut arrangements they sell at farmer's market, herb wreaths, and other creative items. They saw a market and created a business to satisfy the market. Their barn was remodeled by adding rafters so the flowers could dry in the top of the barn, what is now a cooler to keep flowers fresh was once a stall. They used their creative imagination and skills to design a business that supports three families. They are coming to the Entrepreneurial Round Table to talk with you about the ups and downs of starting a business. If you have a question for them, they are here to answer it.

Ruby Stewart and Debbie Whobrey of Sisterly Touch Catering in Owen County are also coming to the Entrepreneurial Round Table on October 18th. They cooked because they enjoyed it, and they did it well. They often took their home cooked foods to family reunions, pot luck dinners, and other gatherings. Soon they were being asked to do something for a special occasion. Their requests became more and more until they decided to go into the catering business. They started small, working out of their mother's basement but have grown into a Kitchen of their own and have an area where they host small group events. Ruby and Debbie are a perfect example of a family owned business. They are willing to share what they learned through designing their business with anyone who wishes to learn about small business development.

The Kentucky Alternative Livestock Association (KALA) is a group of farmers who raise Cervids such as white tail deer, elk, and bison to name a few. Representatives from KALA will be hosting a table on October 18th to share information about raising these nontraditional animals.

These are only a few of the businesses that will be represented at the Entrepreneurial Round Table. Please watch your local newspaper over the next few weeks to learn who else will be coming to our county to share their experiences in small business development.

Do you have an idea of a business you would like to start? Do you have a special skill that you might turn into a business at home? Do you know someone else who would like information? There will be an idea booth at the Round Table that will just be a list of possibilities that might make a good business for Eastern Kentucky or offer opportunities for additional income. Our goal is to spark your imagination and connect you with people who might help if you should decide to try something new or if you have an idea and provide a support network of entrepreneurs across the Eastern Part of Kentucky. The Entrepreneurial Round Table is free to the people. It is open to Elliott, Morgan, Carter, Menifee, Wolfe, and Greenup Counties.

Come visit the Entrepreneurial Round Table at a time that is convenient for you, talk to one or all of the resource professionals and entrepreneurs. If you like, you can come and spend the whole afternoon with us. We expect to have a good time.

The Entrepreneurial Round Table is being planned by the Elliott County Cooperative Extension Office, Gateway Resource and Conservation Council, Elliott County Kentucky Entrepreneurial Coaches Institute Fellows, and The East Kentucky Foothills Eco-Agri/Tourism, Corp.

Soldiers stationed in Iraq send letters of thanks home

Mr. Lexie R. Gibbs, of Lower Gilmore, in Wolfe County, recently received the following letters of thanks from U.S. soldiers serving their country in Iraq.

Mr. Gibbs' son, Cpt. Lexie R. Gibbs III First Sergeant, is presently stationed in Iraq, serving his second tour of duty there. Earlier in his career he served one tour of duty in Afghanistan. During the entire time Gibbs' son has been stationed there, he has put together packages of non-perishable food items, soft drinks, toiletries, etc. and shipped to his son. In addition to Mr. Gibbs' efforts, the congregation at Daysboro Church of Christ, where Cpt. Gibbs attended while living in Wolfe County, has also been involved in sending care packages overseas.

The letters received by Mr. Gibbs follows--

Dear Mr. Gibbs,
I can't tell you how much we appreciate your kindness with the packages you send to this unit. As CPT Gibbs First Sergeant, we both realize how important the morale of a unit is, it has the ability to make or break the success of a mission. The mail is picked up and when they bring in these huge over taped boxes the eyes light up and it immediately goes in the Commander's office. Not because we play favorites or it being like Christmas, but it is so large we are unable to keep or fit it in the mail room. I wish you could see the smile on the faces of the men here in the Company when CPT Gibbs finds a need for soldiers. A simple set of socks, the multitude of chips and beef jerky, continues to keep everyone in great spirits. I may be mistaken and it could be just the sugar in the sodas, but either way you have brought smiles to the faces of everyone here. We are much appreciative for the time you take and the inspiration it provides. What really keeps these soldiers going are people like you that take the time to let us know that we are not forgotten and that someone 1,800 miles away cares; providing goodies and items we are unable to get here, we consider them luxuries. I surely thank you from the bottom of my heart for your efforts and generosity to the soldiers here overseas. Just to hear them talk about it, gives some of the young ones a new found light on America and what they are accomplishing here.

Thank you,
Randel J. Bettger
1SG, USA
HHC 2nd BDE 1CD
Dear Mr. Gibbs,
We would like to take this opportunity to send you our most sincere thanks. The many packages you have sent have given us a constant reminder of home. There are times during every deployment where the constant and unchanging routine can weigh heavily on a soldier's moral, and sometimes even the smallest effort from our supporters back home can make a huge impact on raising the spirits of a section.

When Cpt. Gibbs came to the company none of us knew what kind of a commander we should expect. Lucky for us we found in him an experienced leader that helped bring us up to become the dedicated professionals we are. You should be very proud of your son and his accomplishments while here at HHC 2BCT. The achievements of any company are a direct reflection of the leadership it receives and lately we have become (for lack of a better phrase) a catastrophic success.

We're all looking forward to making it home to our families and feel confident that with Cpt. Gibbs in charge our transition back to Texas will be a smooth one.

Again, thank you for the many care packages you have sent. We do realize that it's not a simple (or inexpensive) task to send gifts like the ones you give. Even more so to do it as consistently as you do, so it does in fact mean more to us than just getting a couple of "Ale 8's". It's nice to know that people think highly enough of us to make such efforts on our behalf.

Most sincerely and respectfully,
SGT Manire, Alex

COUGAR FOOTBAL

Havens becoming Cougars' prime offensive threat

By David Patrick

It's been a difficult start to the new season for the Morgan County Cougars. The team is winless through its first two games, having been outscored 86-18.

But amidst the scoring struggles, the Cougars have managed to find an offensive star. After seven scoreless quarters of football, quarterback Kyle Havens put the team on his back in the fourth period against Powell County. The sophomore scored two of the Cougars' three touchdowns—with each coming on runs of 40-plus yards. For Havens, it was success that seemed long overdue.

"It was great to be able to finally score, but I felt like we could have done that the whole game," Havens said. "By the time the fourth quarter came around, I just think we wanted it more. But we need to have that kind of effort the whole game." Morgan gained 289 rushing yards against the Pirates, with a career-best 231 coming from Havens. The Cougar quarterback reeled off eight carries of 10 yards or more, establishing himself as the team's prime offensive threat.

"He did a phenomenal job," Cougar coach Jeff Norman said. "Kyle is so elusive and has that stutter step that drives opponents crazy. I think he's going to continue to make it hard on teams to contain him."

As with any good ball-carrier, Havens admits there's no better feeling than getting into the open field.

"It feels great when you get past the line of scrimmage and no one is in front of you," Havens said. "Just to break that long run makes you want to do it again."

And Havens will have the opportunity to do just that this Friday night against Magoffin County. The Cougars and Hornets are slated for 7:20 kick-off in Salyersville.

Sixth grader Haley Meade makes the turn to go down the straight section of the John Clark Cross Country Course in Ashland. Haley finished the race in 9th place and her best time of the year.

Morgan County Cross Country

The Morgan County Cross Country team competed in the Fairview Cross Country Invitational this past Saturday, at the John W. Clark Cross Country Course in Ashland.

"This is our second meet of the year and the first chance we get to see where we stand with other schools in our region," Coach Garry Harper said last week. "Unfortunately, there are going to be 280 plus runners in this meet, so it's going to be crowded and fast."

This is exactly what the Cougars ran into. The high school girls 5k race was the first event to get underway. Teila Bolin finished 16th with a time 24:06. Keisha Whisman ran in her first race of the year with a time of 37:02. The girls team needs three more runners to compete as a team. Until that happens, Teila and Keisha will continue to run for individual achievements.

Teila Bolin broke into the regional rankings with a #9 ranking this week.

In the high school boys 5k race, Cory Harper finished with a time of 22:59, Cory Murphy with a time of 25:04, Josh Lykins with a time of 25:14, Cory Linkous with a time of 27:46, Tyler Haney with a time of 32:59, and Patrick Montgomery with a time of 33:18.

In the girls 3k middle school race, sixth grader Haley Meade finished 9th with a time of 17:39.

In the boys 3k middle school race, sixth grader Ryan Steele finished with a time of 16:51, and Casey Ward finished with a time of 18:13 after taking a fall in the last 1,000 meters of the race.

The Cougars will compete in Maysville this Saturday morning.

UK Korner

Cats vs. Cards

The date was Sept. 1, 2002. The Kentucky Wildcats headed down I-64 to Louisville — supposedly to take a beating from Heisman hopeful Dave Ragone and the powerful Cardinal offense. During the previous season, UK had ranked 109th in the nation in total defense and figured to be easy pickings for the lethal left arm of Ragone. The University of Louisville had even gone as far as to have bobblehead dolls made for the senior — anticipating a dominating performance against the Cats on national television to be the perfect kick-off for an all-out Heisman Trophy campaign.

Well, Ragone's head did plenty of "bobbling" that night, and so did the rest of his body. The UK defense beat the poor guy to a pulp. Ragone was held to less than 200 yards passing, sacked four times and intercepted once. But that was only the half of it. The Cats chased him from sideline to sideline, with Ragone running for his life. By game's end, the Cardinal quarterback could barely pick himself up off the turf. The media referred to it as the night Kentucky "ran Ragone right out of the Heisman race."

Come Saturday, the Cats will look to turn the trick again, this time against another Heisman candidate, quarterback Brian Brohm. And while Ragone's candidacy for college football's top award might have been more wishful thinking on Louisville's part, that is not the case with Brohm. This Cardinal quarterback is the real deal, coming off a career-best 401 yards and five touchdowns against Middle Tennessee. His two game totals for the new season — 776 yards, nine touchdowns and zero interceptions.

Of course, Kentucky has quite a quarterback of its own in Andre' Woodson. The pre-season All-American has thrown 468 yards and five touchdowns, completing 68 percent of his passes. All this after a 2006 season that saw Woodson throw for more than 3,500 yards and 31 touchdowns en route to earning All-SEC honors.

To those of us who like offense, Saturday's game is one made in heaven. The teams have already combined for 2,436 yards of total offense, 237 points and 32 touchdowns. Besides the QBs, both also have outstanding running games and NFL-caliber receivers (U of L's Harry Douglas and UK's Keenan Burton).

This is the most anticipated matchup in Commonwealth Stadium's 35-year history. And when the smoke clears, it could be one of the biggest wins ever for the UK program.

ATHLETE OF THE WEEK

MCHS Volleyball Seniors

This week's athlete of the week is shared by the MCHS Lady Cougar Volleyball Seniors who have provided the leadership and guidance to the best start in Morgan County Volleyball history with a 16-2 record. In addition, they become the first senior class to beat arch-rival Rowan County last week (26-28, 25-12, 25-15). The varsity volleyball Cougars have had an outstanding season and look to capture a district title at home in October. Congratulations to the MCHS Volleyball team, the seniors, coaches, and overall program.

Lady Cougars 7-1 in recent action, now 16-2 for season

Coach Tammy Hensley's Lady Cougars posted seven straight wins in recent action to stretch their win record 16, before falling to Fleming County in the second round of pool play in last weekend's Dink Scott Memorial Tournament at Mt. Sterling.

In regular season play, the Lady Cougars defeated Powell County (26-24, 25-21); Salyersville (25-14, 25-19); Rowan County (26-28, 25-12, 25-15). Then the Morgan girls rattled off four straight wins in pool competition at the Dink Scott Tournament, defeating Fleming County (10-21, 21-10, 15-10); Harrison County (21-14, 21-16); George Rogers Clark (21-15, 21-9), and Nicholas County (25-20, 25-6) to advance to the second round of single-elimination play, where they fell to Fleming County (22-25, 25-19, 20-25).

The Lady Cougars are now 16-2 overall on the season.

Morgan's win over long-time rival Rowan County opened with a case of the jitters on the part of the Lady Cougars, who lost the first set 26-28, despite good play by Ashtyn Goforth, who racked up two blocks, two aces, two kills and had a tip; Meghan Howard with a key block and Alyssa Dulen with a tip and Bri Peyton with two kills and a tip.

Morgan dominated in the second set, winning it 25-12 behind good teamwork and good play from Goforth (4 blocks and 3 kills), Peyton (1 block and 4 kills), Leslie Eagle (3 blocks, 4 kills, 2 tips), Dulen (1 kill, 1 tip), Howard (1 kill), and Sam Jarvis (1 tip).

The Morgan girls continued their momentum in the final set, dominating the nets, with an all-round good defensive performance. Goforth had 5 blocks and 5 kills. Eagle had a block, a tip and 4 kills. Dulen chipped in with a block and 2 tips. Howard had 2 kills. Peyton had 3 kills and 2 blocks. Morgan won the set, 25-15.

WORDS TO LIVE BY

When we accept tough jobs as a challenge to our ability and wade into them with joy and enthusiasm, miracle can happen. When we do our work with a dynamic conquering spirit, we get things done.

Highlands Museum to hold attic, book sale Sept. 15-16

Maybe you have not gotten around to cleaning your attic lately, but many friends of the museum have done just that. Vintage items culled from neighboring attics, old and slightly used stacks of books, bric-a-brac, kitchen tools, vinyl records, bicycles, trunks and furniture will be on sale to benefit the museum's educational programs. The sale is during Poage Landing Days, Ashland's annual street festival, and hours are 10 a.m.-5 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 15 and 12-5 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 16. Special Poage Landing admission price is $1 for entry into the sale and to tour the entire museum.

New this year for the attic and book sale is a preview night 5-7 p.m. Friday, Sept. 14. Shoppers can pay an admission fee of $10 per person and can have the first choice of the best of the sale.

Featured exhibits for Poage Landing Days include From Cotopaxi to Mt. Hood: An Art Exhibit, a collection of new work from popular regional artist Diane Smallwood. On the mezzanine, Styles and Textiles: Brother, Can You Spare Me a Dime? showcases quilts and textiles with artifacts and memorabilia from the 1930s era. From Sea to Shining Sea: 200 Years of America's Coast Survey is a pictorial exhibit from the Smithsonian and NOAA celebrating 200 years of accomplishments and scientific contributions in mapping our nation's coast. Photos, charts and artwork provide information and resources on boating, shipping and maritime history.

In partnership with schools and community, the museum attracts and educates both youth and adults from around the tri-state and across the nation. It preserves history and provides an integral contribution to the region's quality of life. The museum attracts more than 21,000 visitors each year, and more than 10,000 children attend special activities — workshops, camps, exhibits and events. An additional 1,800 students are reached by the museum's outreach programs at area schools.

The museum is located at 1620 Winchester Ave. Museum tours are available 10 a.m.-4 p.m. Tuesdays-Saturdays and Mondays by appointment. Admission is $5 for adults, and $4 for seniors, students and children. Members and children under 2 are free.

When pointing out a mistake by another person, always consider the person's feelings.
 Comedian Milton Berle was dining with his wife, Ruth, in a Hollywood restaurant, when a waiter put too much pepper on her salad.
 Mrs. Berle tasted it and said, "Hmm. Needs more salad."

Morgan student becomes stork's assistant at MSU

MOREHEAD — A Morgan County student at Morehead State University whose human rights and global justice class was interrupted Aug. 27 when his professor went into labor, played a key roll in a scramble by students to get her to the hospital.

When it became evident that the baby, who was not due until the end of September, was about to be born, R. V. Lockard, a junior from West Liberty, dashed from the room to get his car. Other students helped load Dr. Noelle N'Diaye into the car and Lockard drove his professor to St. Claire Regional Medical Center, where shortly afterward, the child was born.

Dr. N'Diaye's baby was named immediately pending a seven-day wait demanded by tradition in her husband's native Mali, during which elders and relatives in Africa were to be consulted.
